The hanging was witnessed only by officials of the prison. A large crowd waited outside the grim goal and when the bell tolled announcing the law a satisfaction there were a few cheers internixed with groans. Several Irish women standing at the rear of the Pentonville jail attempted a demonstration, led by an Irish memoriate of the scene by guards. Leaving his cell on the summons to ideath, the Irishman appeared slightly nervous, but there were no signs of a breakdown and he smiled gravely at his guard, remarking:

"It is a beautiful morning."

Irishmen Fell on Knees.

Several of the Irishmen in the crowd outside the jail fell on their knees and prayed fervently during the telling of the bell which announced Casement's death. On the other hand there were a few in the watchers, men and women, who waved hats and handkerchiefs.

Relief is being granted local merchants through an amendment, introduced for first reading this morning, to an ordinance affecting peddlers and passed more than two years ago. The amendment probably will become law next Monday, when it is believed it next Monday, when it is believed it will come up for second reading.

J. Will Kelley, secretary of the Commercial club, appeared before the commissioners last Monday urging that action be taken to discourage the itinerant merchants who apparently find this a rich field for their activi-ties. According to Mr. Kelley, prac-tically every species of merchandise has been sold here, from samples on display at local hotels.

WHAT THE LEATHER SHORTAGE MAY DO TO US

The city commission this morning harkened to a cry from local merchants who sought protection from itinerant vendors who temporarily move stocks of samples into the city and solicit orders for future delivery. Protection will be granted to the extent that itinerant merchants will be compelled to pay a license fee of $100 a day before they can solicit business in Topeka.

The advantage of the series was at stake this afternoon, and a hard fought game was expected. Despite their blow up Wednesday the majority of fans seemed to think Engle's men would cop today. Savage stated today that he had a line on another American association pitcher, but that he was not sure he would be able to land him.

Gain Women's Undying Loyalty.

"The leaders of the woman's party are no babes in the woods. We realize that politics and hope of victory may have had a great deal to do with the change in Governor Hughes toward favoring national suffrage. But we have not even a promise from the Democrats. We have every confidence that as leader of his party Governor Hughes will keep his word. The party that recures the political freedom of all women will inevitably win the undying loyalty and adherence of the women voters. Will the Democrats give this great opportunity to the Republican party?"

Miss Martin is directing efforts to raise a $100,000 campaign fund for the woman's party.
